

Routing update: IPv6 multihoming

*JÁKÓ András, jako.andras@eik.bme.hu
BME EISZK*

As I mentioned in my paper “Routing update: IPv6 unicast” at Networkshop 2004, multihoming is one of the most important open issues in IPv6. This problem also hinders large scale deployment of IPv6. In this paper I briefly walk through the history of IPv6 multihoming, and then I present the proposed solution that is being prepared by the IETF shim6 working group.